ONE LIFE AND ONE LIVE

We have got one life and we have one liver. Hepatitis can spoil both. July 28 was chosen as "World Hepatitis Day". It is birthday of Nobel prize winning Scientist Dr. Baruch Blumberg, who discovered Hepatitis B virus and developed a diagnostic test and vaccine for the virus.

This year's theme was, "We are not waiting for change, we are fighting to make it happen." There is urgent need for testing and treatment of people who are suffering and accelerate elimination effects of viral hepatitis. Liver is one of the important and busiest organ of our body, but its care is frequently neglected due to lack of awareness about the liver diseases and the way to prevent it. Hepatitis is basically inflammation of liver caused common by Hepatitis virus such A, B, C & E, Alcohol, Fatty liver (NAFLD), Drug induced and Autoimmune hepatitis.

most, testing and treatment remain beyond reach due to several factors. Globally, the primary focus is to eliminate Hepatitis B, C & D Infections. Unlike acute viral Hepatitis, these three infections causes chronic hepatitis that last for several years & culminates in more than 10 lacks of death per year from Cirrhosis and cancer of the liver. Morbidity and mortality due to hepatitis is mostly because of lack of diagnostic testing in early course of disease.

For Screening of Hepatitis, Simple Blood test for liver function (LFT), Viral markers HBSag and Anti HCV should be done. Vaccination should be done for Hepatitis B. Avoid alcohol, smoking, oily and fried foods, shared syringes, tattoos, intravenous drugs. Hepatitis A & E Virus infection which spread by feco oral, transmission can be prevented by avoiding uncooked & unhygienic food items specially during Summers and rainy Seasons. For healthy liver, one should avoid sugars, take more of green leafy vegetables, black coffee, daily regular exercise of atleast 30 min. These simple things can help prevention of hepatitis and reduce the disease burden.
